I just received the USACE Draft Final Report a couple of days ago. I am still currently reviewing the document and still need to have a curtsey call with RPs to inform them what the document says before it is made final to the public. I need a couple of weeks for final review and distribution of the report.

FYI – According to someone who attended the San Jacinto River Coalition meeting the other evening, two big items widely discussed included the Status of the COE’s review of the Cap; and what clean up criteria will be utilized for the Prop Plan.
